Vision

A Constructive Society that Lives with Dignity.

Mission

Basmeh & Zeitooneh is a refugee-led relief and development organization responding to the acute needs of displaced and host communities to help people reclaim dignity and agency over their lives.

We've aligned our efforts under five programmatic pillars: education, protection, food security and livelihood, and civil society enablement. While each pillar offers distinct impact for both individuals and communities, they are intimately connected.

About B&Z

Basmeh & Zeitooneh started as a grassroots organization in 2012 when a group of volunteers in Lebanon – driven by the plight of Syrian refugees – began a small relief operation. Today, Basmeh & Zeitooneh has grown into one of the largest and most established refugee-led relief organizations in the world, responding to the acute needs of both the displaced and their host communities.

We're proud to be founded by refugees, for refugees. It's what sets us and our work apart, and gives us a deeper understanding of the community we serve. As part of the community, we understand its unique, ever-evolving, needs and challenges. We're also positioned close enough to respond swiftly when new challenges arise. Our interventions are co-designed alongside participants and adapted with their input. And the trust and credibility we've built over eleven years gives us access few others have.

Consistency

- Maintain a consistent tone of voice across all communications. The tone should reflect our organizational values of empathy, respect, and empowerment.
- How we communicate is one of the most important aspects of everything we do. It's the way in which we tell our compelling stories to the world that ultimately inspires positive action.
- The Basmeh & Zeitooneh tone or personality was created to be one voice for all Syrian refugees across all nations and all circumstances. We are open, honest, factual, and transparent. And while the facts we convey may seem overwhelming, we deliver them in a way that's engaging, positive, and enabling.
- Our confident can-do ability delivers a sense of urgency – an invitation for action, collaboration, and the ability to make impact that matters.

Language

- Use clear, inclusive, and positive language. Avoid jargon and technical terms that may not be understood by all audiences. Ensure that the language is accessible and easily understandable.
